

School of Pharmacy and Health Professions

Three full-time, 12-month (Non-tenure track), Clinician Educator faculty positions

Qualifications:

- Earned doctorate (e.g., PhD, OTD, EdD)
- Licensed or eligible for occupational therapy licensure in Nebraska required. Clinical and/or didactic teaching experience of at least 3 years is preferred.

Responsibilities:

- Teaching, scholarship, and service to the department and the university; collaborative teaching with existing instructor of record including laboratory instruction, planning and student evaluation for course content areas such as foundational practice skills, mental health, geriatrics, physical rehabilitation (kinesiology, orthopedics, neurorehabilitation, and physical agent modalities),
- Serving as a clinical research mentor for group student research projects and engaging in a research program; Student advisement.

Documented evidence of teaching, clinical expertise, and proficiency may include:

- Provision of mentorship, advice or consultation
- Delivery of in-service training or professional presentations
- Contribution to clinical patient care outcomes and or interprofessional collaboration
- Development of clinical practice protocols or departmental policies and procedures
- Teaching in an online environment
- Completion of an AOTA or other fellowship program
- AOTA Board or Specialty certification, certification as a fieldwork educator, or other certification
- Supervision of Level I, Level II fieldwork, Doctoral Experiential Component (Rotation)
- Participation in scholarship or development of or dissemination of research

Due to occupational therapy departmental growth, these unique and exciting opportunities await the appropriate candidates. We are looking for doctoral-prepared individuals who enjoy a progressive and dynamic environment to join our active, creative, and engaged faculty of 22; dedicated to expanding the scope of occupational therapy practice and education and challenging our students to actively reflect the University's unique Ignatian values. Our Department is nationally recognized for its leadership and innovation in occupational therapy doctoral education. The Department has strong administrative and institutional support for its programs and creative initiatives.

The Department of Occupational Therapy is seeking self-motivated and productive individuals who are looking to advance their career and become part of a vibrant and transformational program. The doctoral-prepared faculty member will have an exceptional opportunity to influence the future of occupational therapy doctoral education through a number of successful initiatives including our entry-level campus-based pathway and our three-entry-level hybrid campus/online programs in Omaha, Anchorage, Denver, and the more recent launch of our international Master of Science in Occupational Therapy and the Master of Science in Rehabilitation. In addition, we are experiencing continued growth in our highly successful post-professional doctoral program and several international collaborative and outreach programs such as the Institute for Latin American Concern and the China Honors Interprofessional Program.

Omaha is a friendly city in the heart of a metropolitan area of over 1 million. It is a wonderful place to live where unemployment is low, cost of living is below the national average, educational attainment is high, and a variety of cultural and recreational attractions exist. For more information, please visit: <http://www.visitomaha.com/>.

Application review will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Expressions of initial interest will be treated in strict confidence. To learn more about the university, school and program, please visit: <http://www.ot.creighton.edu>. Candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, examples of clinical proficiency and provide the names and contact information for three professional references to:

Shirley Blanchard PhD, ABDA, OTR/L, FAOTA
Chair - Search Committee
Department of Occupational Therapy
School of Pharmacy and Health Professions
Creighton University
2500 California Plaza
Omaha, NE 68178
Phone: (402) 280-59921, Fax: (402) 280-5692
email: sblancha@creighton.edu

Creighton is a Jesuit, Catholic institution that encourages applications from qualified individuals from all backgrounds who believe they can contribute to its distinctive educational tradition.

Creighton University is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer.